History of New Hampshire's Red Book Manual

The state government's biennial Red Book Manual was initiated 90 years ago by the 1887 Legislature to expedite information on New Hampshire's public affairs.

The state government had for a century depended upon the privately-compiled annual New Hampshire Registers to disseminate election statistics and legislative details. But the publishers of the pocket-sized Registers had been forced to develop other types of information to support their annual editions, when the Legislature and the state government in general, went onto a biennial basis in 1879. So this was the reason why the 1887 Legislature voted to compile and publish its own vital state information, and attempt to resurrect the Granite State historic lore for which the Registers had long been popular.

The Red Book was launched for the 1889 session of the General Court, and it was an enterprising and amazing Democrat who instilled the biennial Red Book with worthwhile meaning and invaluable historical data. Hosea Ballou Carter of Hampstead, a political jack-of-all-sorts, compiled the early editions, and his 1891 issue continues most remarkable to this day. Not only was it the greatest single source of state government lore ever produced in New Hampshire, but it was the only blue-hued Red Book ever published.

Democrat Carter, presumably named for the Reverend Hosea Ballou of Richmond, N. H., a pioneer patriarch of the Universalist Church, was a juggler of political mathematics, among his varied ventures.

The Republican Legislature often hired Carter to revamp political districts, to safeguard party control of both the House of Representatives and the Senate. As attest to his political proclivities, it is recorded that in 1880, he served as chairman of the Committee on Credentials in the Republican State Convention, and the following day he filled the same position in the Democratic State Convention.

Carter was a self-styled swinger who, in retrospect, it must have been a delight to know. He had no formal schooling, labelled himself "Hozee," and at 58, when given to wearing a skull cap in public, wrote of himself:

Hozee has hustled as a cyclopedia canvasser, a patent medicine manufacturer, a sewing machine agent, a safe salesman, a desk drummer, a typewriter expert, an editor, a statistician, a detective, a railroad commissioner, a publisher, a politician, a candidate, an office-holder, and even now (1892) he is hustling as chief clerk of the newly created New Hampshire Bureau of Labor.

Carter's personal pride was production of the handsomely illustrated 1892 "Town and Country Atlas of New Hampshire," sixteen by eighteen inches in size, which has become a prized collectors' item and currently commands a price in excess of $100. His blue-covered Red Book of 1891 (a red-covered edition was later printed because of demand for its valuable contents) continues to be an amazing compendium covering two centuries of legislative records, in particular, and the state government in general. Historians have come to consider it a fitting memorial to Hozea Ballou Carter and his incomparable contribution to the lore of Granite State officialdom.

Carter's 1891 Red Book was personally copyrighted and sold to the Legislature. It listed himself as "Actuary of Political Statistics and Editor of State Manual," a self-sponsored title never again displayed in his later editions.

The 1891 Red Book featured colored maps showing how Carter gerrymandered the various House and Senate, and Executive Council, districts, which the 1891 Legislature enacted, to reinsure Republican dominations in state affairs. He also juggled a new law on House seats, as a new constitutional amendment terminated district groupings for towns of less than 600 population, and put all the tinier towns on a part-time representation basis.

Carter's 1891 gerrymandering proved its worth. While the Republican majorities had up to then declined to 186-170 in the House and 14-10 in the Senate, they respectively soared to 214-134 and 15-9 in 1893, and to 264-99 and 21-3 in the 1895 session.

Democrat Carter's Republican service as a political mathematician covered many years. The Granite Monthly magazine of 1886 told how he "displayed his statesmanship," in a readjustment of House seats, when an 1877 constitutional amendment changed the apportionment base from poll taxpayers to population. The Legislature was then required to district smaller towns to qualify for the 600 population minimum for a full-time House seat, but there was a loophole by which it could grant part-time seats to precincts of less than 600, if they could not be advantageously grouped.

Three dozen tinier towns won part-time representation and Carter neatly gerrymandered the Democratic units into the "off" sessions, while those of Republican persuasion sat in the biennial sessions when a United States Senator was to be elected by the General Court (a custom which continued until 1914 when such officials became elected by the people.)

The 1891 Red Book listed New Hampshire's good luck in having second and third class United States Senators, thanks to a lottery which launched the national Senate in 1789.

John Langdon, Portsmouth's 37-year-old shipbuilder and Revolutionary War hero, and the Reverend Paine Wingate, Stratham's 39-year-old farmer, clergyman and political patriot, the state's first federal Senators, played leading roles in this lottery, and came out winners. Langdon, chosen as the first Senate President pro tem, and Wingate were designated to handle a Senate seating lottery, along with Tristram Dalton, a Massachusetts Senator. This was the device used for initial allotment of two, four and six-year terms, so that one-third of the Senate membership would ever afterward come up for election in each biennium.

Langdon and Wingate survived the first one-third of names drawn, which was for the least desirable two-year terms, and Dalton fell into this first class. Wingate came up in the second class of the lottery, for a four-year term while Langdon was the most fortunate, lasting into the third class of the drawings, for a six-year term.

The biennial Red Books have always furnished election tabulations and state government data in general. But the early editions pioneered historic information never before available in such popular form. They also presented statistics on the Legislature, and the state and federal governments, delving back to 1680 creation of New Hampshire's provincial government, and its constitutional life founded in 1776.

The first Red Book of 1889 featured constitutional lore. It presented the temporary constitution of 1776; the first proposed permanent constitution of 1778 (of five pages) which the people voted down, and the permanent constitution as finally ratified in 1783, after two more rebuffs by the people (of 24 pages). Interestingly, this first edition listed the names of 3,000 Justices of the Peace then in service within the state. There was also a tabulation showing that 91 per cent of the 99,432 names on the voter checklists cast ballots for Governor in 1888, a record never since equalled in New Hampshire.

The 1893 Red Book listed New Hampshire's participation in all the quadrennial national political conventions, which began in 1831. This issue also contained details of the 436 land grants covering two centuries, out of which the state's cities and towns developed.

The 1893 edition presented an initial report on the portraits which have been a distinctive feature of the Capitol, since nearly 200 of them were mustered in the decade following the Civil War by Secretary of State Benjamin Franklin Prescott of Epping (later Governor), long an ardent champion of Granite State historic life. The portraits were crammed ceiling-high upon the walls of both the House and Senate chambers; into the somewhat small offices of the then few state agencies, and later even over into the new State Library building when it opened in 1895.

Almost difficult to imagine these days, there were 27 portraits upon the Senate walls, and another 21, many of them next to the ceiling, in the House chamber. All this changed, of course, when the State House was doubled in size, for a second time, in 1910, and provided another three stories of spacious corridors for the paintings of Governors, war heroes, and other political figures.

The 1895 Red Book presented 40 pages of biographical sketches of prominent state personages of the previous century. And the 1897 edition offered a condensed outline of the state's provincial and colonial public life, up through the Revolutionary War period.

An important compilation of the rolls of the New Hampshire men who dominated the Battle of Bunker Hill at Boston covers 60 pages of the 1899 Red Book. This was the work of George C. Gilmore, Manchester historian and publicist, by order of Governor Charles H. Sawyer of Dover and his Executive Council.

Gilmore's purpose was to furnish a first complete listing of the Granite Staters who participated in that immortal confrontation with the British, to be inscribed upon a tablet at the site. But Massachusetts officials refused to permit such special tribute to the New Hampshiremen. So Gilmore's compilation was inserted into the 1899 Red Book, with his expressed hope the names would become enblazoned upon the State House lawn in Concord, which never bore fruit.

The 1901 Red Book is of special historic value for it identifies the 85 Civil War battle flags which grace the Capitol's main entrance Hall of Flags. They were permanently encased by order of the 1899 Legislature, and the exhibit included two flags from the brief Spanish American war, then just terminated.

The display covers regiments numbered from one through eighteen, but there are no emblems from the 17th Regiment because it was merged into the 2nd Regiment before going to the front. Single units of heavy and light artillery, and cavalry, are also identified with battle flags, while the state's three companies of sharpshooters were part of the First and Second Regiments.

The 85 tattered and battle torn emblems hang as tribute to the 32,750 Granite State men, nearly 10 per cent of the population, who served in that 1861-1865 conflict to preserve the Union of the United States.

There were hundreds of other flags carried by the New Hampshire forces in the Civil War, but the State House did not have room for them all, so the 1864 Legislature voted the following restrictions, to be carried out by the House and Senate doorkeepers:

They shall procure and tastefully display in the rotunda beneath Representatives Hall, the state regimental ensigns tattered in battle, such to bear the number of its respective regiment, and to be there preserved forever, as relics of war.

The 1866 Legislature forbade removal of any of the flags "from the State House, except to prevent their destruction from some unusual cause." It seems that patriotic groups had been borrowing them for special public events.

It was on May 23, 1868 that the flags were placed on permanent display in the rotunda, long called Doric Hall because of its columns, but ever since known as Hall of Flags.

The 1903 Red Book included rolls of New Hampshire's Revolutionary soldiers in Massachusetts regiments, etc., and other additions to Gilmore's important statistics of the 1899 edition.

The 1905 manual launched the custom of listing the political committees and platforms of parties participating in the biennial state elections, which continues to this day.

The 1909 edition contained two unusual features. One was a reprint of an 1829 "Catechism of the History of New Hampshire," of 43 pages, compiled by John Farmer, Concord druggist and the state's first official historian. The other was a general index of the first ten issues of the Red Book, a service never since implemented.

The 15th issue of the Red Book in 1917 was a monumental production. It reflected the enthusiasm for history of Hobart Pillsbury of Manchester, youthful deputy Secretary of State, who a decade later authored an updated four-volume history of the state.

This 1917 edition comprised nine sections; updated much of the statistics of Carter's 1891 classic, and for a first time presented a thumbnail history of each state agency, all of which made this book the first to exceed 500 pages since the 1891 issue.

The 1921 Red Book contained a rearrangement of the Capitol's portraits, by then numbering more than 220, with detailed identification.

The Declaration of Independence is generally regarded as one of the most famous documents in the history of the world. On June 10, 1776, the Continental Congress appointed a committee, consisting of Thomas Jefferson, Benjamin Franklin, John Adams, Roger Sherman and Robert R. Livingston to draft a Declaration of Independence.

Jefferson wrote out a rough draft of the Declaration, which was carefully revised by the committee and presented to Congress for adoption. After some further slight revisions by that body, it was adopted on July 4, 1776, at Philadelphia.

The parchment with the original signatures was deposited with the Department of State when the government was organized in 1789.

The original Declaration of Independence was transferred from the Department of State by direction of the late President Warren G. Harding to the Library of Congress. The Declaration was moved from the Library of Congress in 1952 at the direction of Congress and transferred to the National Archives Building where it rests today.

THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE

MADE BY THE ORIGINAL THIRTEEN STATES
IN CONGRESS AT PHILADELPHIA

UNANIMOUSLY ADOPTED JULY 4, 1776

When, in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume, among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the laws of nature and of nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed, by their Creator, with certain unalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed, that whenever any form of government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or to abolish it, and institute new government, laying its foundation on such principles, and organizing its powers in such form as to them shall seem most likely to effect their safety and happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that governments long established, should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shown that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same object, evinces a design to reduce them under absolute despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such government, and to provide new guards for their future security. Such has been the patient sufferance of these Colonies, and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former systems of government. The history of the present King of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute tyranny over these States. To prove this, let facts be submitted to a candid world.

He has refused his assent to laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good.

He has forbidden his governors to pass laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operation till his assent should be obtained; and when so suspended, he has utterly neglected to attend to them.

He has refused to pass other laws for the accommodation of large districts of people, unless those people should relinquish the right of representation in the legislature, a right inestimable to them, and formidable to tyrants only.

He has called together legislative bodies at places unusual, uncomfortable, and distant from the depository of their public records, for the sole purpose of fatiguing them into compliance with his measures.

He has dissolved representative houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly firmness his invasions on the rights of the people.

He has refused for a long time, after such dissolutions, to cause others to be elected, whereby the legislative powers, incapable of annihilation, have returned to the people at large for their exercise; the State remaining, in the meantime, exposed to all the dangers of invasion from without, and convulsions within.

He has endeavored to prevent the population of these States; for that purpose obstructing the laws for naturalization of foreigners; refusing to pass others to encourage their migrations hither; and raising the conditions of new appropriations of lands.

He has obstructed the administration of justice by refusing his assent to laws for establishing judiciary powers.

He has made judges dependent on his will alone, for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries.

He has erected a multitude of new offices, and sent hither swarms of officers to harass our people, and eat out their substance.

He has kept among us, in times of peace, standing armies, without the consent of our legislatures.

He has affected to render the military independent of and superior to the civil power.

He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his assent to their acts of pretended legislation:

For quartering large bodies of armed troops among us:

For protecting them, by a mock trial, from punishment for any murders which they should commit on the inhabitants of these States:

For cutting off our trade with all parts of the world:

For imposing taxes on us without our consent:

For depriving us, in many cases, of the benefits of trial by jury:

For transporting us beyond seas to be tried for pretended offenses:

For abolishing the free system of English laws in a neighboring province establishing therein an arbitrary government, and enlarging its boundaries, so as to render it at once an example and fit instrument for introducing the same absolute rule into these colonies:

For taking away our charters, abolishing our most valuable laws, and altering fundamentally the forms of our governments:

For suspending our own legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever.

He has abdicated government here, by declaring us out of his protection, and waging war against us.

He has plundered our seas, ravaged our coasts, burnt our towns, and destroyed the lives of our people.

He is, at this time, transporting large armies of foreign mercenaries to complete the works of death, desolation, and tyranny, already begun, with circumstances of cruelty and perfidy, scarcely paralleled in the most barbarous ages, and totally unworthy the head of a civilized nation.

He has constrained our fellow citizens, taken captive on the high seas, to bear arms against their country, to become the executioners of their friends and brethren, or to fall themselves by their hands.

He has excited domestic insurrections amongst us, and has endeavored to bring on the inhabitants of our frontiers, the merciless Indian savages, whose known rule of warfare is an undistinguished destruction of all ages, sexes, and conditions.

In every stage of these oppressions we have petitioned for redress in the most humble terms: our repeated petitions have been answered only by repeated injury. A prince whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a tyrant, is unfit to be the ruler of a free people.

Nor have we been wanting in attentions to our British brethren. We have warned them, from time to time, of attempts by their legislature to extend an unwarrantable jurisdiction over us. We have reminded them of the circumstances of our emigration and settlement here. We have appealed to their native justice and magnanimity, and we have conjured them by the ties of our common kindred to disavow these usurpations, which would inevitably interrupt our connections and correspondence. They too have been deaf to the voice of justice and of consanguinity. We must, therefore, acquiesce in the necessity which denounces our separation, and hold them, as we hold the rest of mankind, enemies in war, in peace friends.

We, therefore, the Representatives of the United States of America, in General Congress assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions, do in the name, and by authority of the good people of these Colonies, solemnly publish and declare, That these United Colonies, are, and of right ought to be, free and independent States; that they are absolved from all allegiance to the British crown, and that all political connexion between them and the State of Great Britain, is, and ought to be, totally dissolved; and that as free and independent States, they have full power to levy war, conclude peace, contract alliances, establish commerce, and to do all other acts and things which independent States, may of right do. And for the support of this declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honour.

The United States Constitution is the oldest federal constitution in existence. It was so well framed that it has served as the basis for this government for a century and a half. Only once has it been seriously endangered, this being during the Civil War. Many of its principles have been adopted by other countries.

The Constitution was the outgrowth of a convention of delegates from the different states that met in Philadelphia in May, 1787, Rhode Island not being represented. George Washington presided over the convention, which lasted from May to September.

The Constitution was then submitted to the then existing states for ratification, with a provision that it should become effective when ratified by nine states. New Hampshire was the ninth state to ratify, June 21, 1788, and the Constitution went into effect in 1789.

The states ratified the Constitution in the following order: Delaware, Dec. 7; Pennsylvania, Dec. 12, and New Jersey, Dec. 18, 1787; Georgia, Jan. 2; Connecticut, Jan. 9; Massachusetts, Feb. 6; Maryland, Apr. 28; South Carolina, May 23; New Hampshire, June 21; Virginia, June 26, and New York, July 26, 1788; North Carolina, Nov. 21, 1789, and Rhode Island, May 29, 1790.

PART FIRST

BILL OF RIGHTS

Article 1st. [Equality of Men; Origin and Object of Government.] All men are born equally free and independent: Therefore, all government, of right, originates from the people, is founded in consent, and instituted for the general good.

Annotation — 53 NH 9, 65 NH 113, 86 NH 597, 89 NH 428, 96 NH 423, 102 NH 215, 105 NH 366.

[Art.] 2d. [Natural Rights.] All men have certain natural, essential, and inherent rights — among which are, the enjoying and defending life and liberty; acquiring, possessing, and protecting, property; and, in a word, of seeking and obtaining happiness. Equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by this state on account of race, creed, color, sex or national origin.

NOTE. — The abbreviation "Art" was first inserted in this and following articles of the Bill of Rights in General Statutes. 1867. Amended 1974.

Annotation — 53 NH 9, 53 NH 398, 54 NH 117, 54 NH 590, 60 NH 219, 67 NH 1, 71 NH 552, 72 NH 95, 73 NH 31, 75 NH 27, 77 NH 581, 87 NH 64, 87 NH 68, 94 NH 148, 102 NH 236.

[Art.] 3d. [Society, its Organization and Purposes.] When men enter into a state of society, they surrender up some of their natural rights to that society, in order to ensure the protection of others; and, without such an equivalent, the surrender is void.

Annotation — 53 NH 9, 60 NH 219, 71 NH 552, 89 NH 54, 97 NH 91, 105 NH 355.

[Art.] 4th. [Rights of Conscience Unalienable.] Among the natural rights, some are, in their very nature unalienable, because no equivalent can be given or received for them. Of this kind are the Rights of Conscience.

Annotation — 53 NH 9, 59 NH 219, 89 NH 54, 100 NH 436.

[Art.] 5th. [Religious Freedom Recognized.] Every individual has a natural and unalienable right to worship God according to the dictates of his own conscience, and reason; and no subject shall be hurt, molested, or restrained, in his person, liberty, or estate, for worshipping God in the manner and season most agreeable to the dictates of his own conscience; or for his religious profession, sentiments, or persuasion; provided he doth not disturb the public peace or disturb others in their religious worship.

Annotation — 53 NH 9, 58 NH 240, 59 NH 219, 64 NH 48, 68 NH 380, 76 NH 393, 89 NH 54, 91 NH 137, 97 NH 352, 99 NH 519, 100 NH 436.

[Art.] 6th. [Morality and Piety.] As morality and piety, rightly grounded on high principles, will give the best and greatest security to government, and will lay, in the hearts of men, the strongest obligations to due subjection; and as the knowledge of these is most likely to be propagated through a society, therefore, the several parishes, bodies corporate, or religious societies shall at all times have the right of electing their own teachers, and of contracting with them for their support or maintenance, or both. But no person shall ever be compelled to pay towards the support of the schools of any sect or denomination. And every person, denomination or sect shall be equally under the protection of the law; and no subordination of any one sect, denomination or persuasion to another shall ever be established.

NOTE. — This article amended 1968.

Annotation — 2 NH 20, 53 NH 9, 56 NH 508, 58 NH 170, 66 NH 207, 75 NH 420, 75 NH 560, 76 NH 393, 88 NH 394, 93 NH 301, 99 NH 519.

[Art.] 7th. [State Sovereignty.] The people of this state have the sole and exclusive right of governing themselves as a free, sovereign, and independent state; and do, and forever hereafter shall, exercise and enjoy every power, jurisdiction, and right, pertaining thereto, which is not, or may not hereafter be, by them expressly delegated to the United States of America in congress assembled.

Annotation — 66 NH 362, 90 NH 472, 105 NH 286.

[Art.] 8th. [Accountability of Magistrates and Officers; Public's Right to Know.] All power residing originally in, and being derived from, the people, all the magistrates and officers of government are their substitutes and agents, and at all times accountable to them. Government, therefore, should be open, accessible, accountable and responsive. To that end, the public's right of access to governmental proceedings and records shall not be unreasonably restricted.

NOTE. — Amended 1974, eff. November 24, 1976.

Annotation — 66 NH 362, 67 NH 1, 90 NH 472.

[Art.] 9th. [No Hereditary Office or Place.] No office or place, whatsoever, in government, shall be hereditary — the abilities and integrity requisite in all, not being transmissible to posterity or relations.

[Art.] 10th. [Right of Revolution.] Government being instituted for the common benefit, protection, and security, of the whole community, and not for the private interest or emolument of any one man, family, or class of men; therefore, whenever the ends of government are perverted, and public liberty manifestly endangered, and all other means of redress are ineffectual, the people may, and of right ought to reform the old, or establish a new government. The doctrine of nonresistance against arbitrary power, and oppression, is absurd, slavish, and destructive of the good and happiness of mankind.

Annotation — 52 NH 581, 60 NH 219, 65 NH 113, 86 NH 597, 88 NH 484, 89 NH 314, 90 NH 472, 99 NH 33, 101 NH 527.

[Art.] 11th. [Elections and Elective Franchises.] All elections are to be free, and every inhabitant of the state of eighteen years of age and upward shall have an equal right to vote in any election. Every person shall be considered an inhabitant for the purpose of voting in the town, ward, or unincorporated place where he has his domicile. No person shall have the right to vote under the constitution of this state who has been convicted of treason, bribery or any willful violation of the election laws of this state or of the United States; but the supreme court may, on notice to the attorney general, restore the privilege to vote to any person who may have forfeited it by conviction of such offense. The general court shall provide by law for voting by qualified voters who at the time of biennial or state elections, or of the primary elections therefor, or of city elections, or of town elections by official ballot, are absent from the city or town of which they are inhabitants, or who by reason of physical disability are unable to vote in person, in the choice of any office or officers to be elected or upon any question submitted at such election. The right to vote shall not be denied to any person because of the non-payment of any tax. Every inhabitant of the state, having the proper qualifications, has equal right to be elected into office.

NOTE. — First proviso inserted, 1903; second proviso inserted 1912. The last sentence was added in 1942 and amended in 1956, and 1968.

NOTE. — Amended 1974, eff. November 24, 1976.

Annotation — 83 NH 589, 97 NH 452, 99 NH 540, 101 NH 420, 101 NH 429, 104 NH 100, 104 NH 108.

[Art.] 12th. [Protection and Taxation Reciprocal.] Every member of the community has a right to be protected by it, in the enjoyment of his life, liberty, and property; he is therefore bound to contribute his share in the expense of such protection, and to yield his personal service when necessary. But no part of a man's property shall be taken from him, or applied to public uses, without his own consent, or that of the representative body of the people. Nor are the inhabitants of this state controllable by any other laws than those to which they, or their representative body, have given their consent.

Annotation — Smith NH 1.

[Art.] 14th. [Legal Remedies to be Free, Complete, and Prompt.] Every subject of this state is entitled to a certain remedy, by having recourse to the laws, for all injuries he may receive in his person, property, or character; to obtain right and justice freely, without being obliged to purchase it; completely, and without any denial; promptly, and without delay; conformably to the laws.

[Art.] 15th. [Right of Accused.] No subject shall be held to answer for any crime, or offense, until the same is fully and plainly, substantially and formally, described to him; or be compelled to accuse or furnish evidence against himself. And every subject shall have a right to produce all proofs that may be favorable to himself; to meet the witnesses against him face to face, and to be fully heard in his defense, by himself, and counsel. And no subject shall be arrested, imprisoned, despoiled, or deprived of his property, immunities, or privileges, put out of the protection of the law, exiled or deprived of his life, liberty, or estate, but by the judgment of his peers, or the law of the land. Every person held to answer in any crime or offense punishable by deprivation of liberty shall have the right to counsel at the expense of the state if need is shown; this right he is at liberty to waive, but only after the matter has been thoroughly explained by the court.

[Art.] 16th. [Former Jeopardy; Jury Trial in Capital Cases.] No subject shall be liable to be tried, after an acquittal, for the same crime or offense. Nor shall the legislature make any law that shall subject any person to a capital punishment, (excepting for the government of the army and navy, and the militia in actual service) without trial by jury.

[Art.] 17th. [Venue of Criminal Prosecutions.] In criminal prosecutions, the trial of facts, in the vicinity where they happened, is so essential to the security of the life, liberty, and estate, of the citizen, that no crime or offense ought to be tried in any other county than that in which it is committed; — except in cases of general insurrection in any particular county, when it shall appear to the judges of the superior court, that an impartial trial cannot be had in the county where the offense may be committed, and upon their report, the legislature shall think proper to direct the trial in the nearest county in which an impartial trial can be obtained.

[Art.] 18th. [Penalties to be Proportioned to Offenses; True Design of Punishment.] All penalties ought to be proportioned to the nature of the offense. No wise legislature will affix the same punishment to the crimes of theft, forgery, and the like, which they do to those of murder and treason. Where the same undistinguishing severity is exerted against all offenses, the people are led to forget the real distinction in the crimes themselves, and to commit the most flagrant with as little compunction as they do the lightest offenses. For the same reason a multitude of sanguinary laws is both impolitic and unjust. The true design of all punishments being to reform, not to exterminate mankind.

NOTE. — The words “those of” following the word “do” in the third sentence, stricken out, 1793.

The word “offenses” in the third sentence was substituted for “dye,” 1793.

Annotation — 80 NH 1.

[Art.] 19th. [Searches and Seizures Regulated.] Every subject hath a right to be secure from all unreasonable searches and seizures of his person, his houses, his papers, and all his possessions. Therefore, all warrants to search suspected places, or arrest a person for examination or trial in prosecutions for criminal matters, are contrary to this right, if the cause or foundation of them be not previously supported by oath or affirmation; and if the order, in a warrant to a civil officer, to make search in suspected places, or to arrest one or more suspected persons or to seize their property, be not accompanied with a special designation of the persons or objects of search, arrest, or seizure; and no warrant ought to be issued; but in cases, and with the formalities, prescribed by law.

[Art.] 20th. [Jury Trial in Civil Causes.] In all controversies concerning property — and in all suits between two or more persons, except in cases in which it has been heretofore otherwise used and practiced, and except in cases in which the value in controversy does not exceed five hundred dollars, and title of real estate is not concerned the parties have a right to a trial by jury and this method of procedure shall be held sacred, unless, in cases arising on the high seas and such as relates to mariners' wages the legislature shall think it necessary hereafter to alter it.

[Art.] 24th. [Militia.] A well regulated militia is the proper, natural, and sure defense, of a state.

[Art.] 25th. [Standing Armies.] Standing armies are dangerous to liberty, and ought not to be raised, or kept up, without the consent of the legislature.

[Art.] 29th. [Suspension of Laws by Legislature Only.] The power of suspending the laws, or the execution of them, ought never to be exercised but by the legislature, or by authority derived therefrom, to be exercised in such particular cases only as the legislature shall expressly provide for.

[Art.] 30th. [Freedom of Speech.] The freedom of deliberation, speech, and debate, in either house of the legislature, is so essential to the rights of the people, that it cannot be the foundation of any action, complaint, or prosecution, in any other court or place whatsoever.

[Art.] 35th. [The Judiciary; Tenure of Office, etc.] It is essential to the preservation of the rights of every individual, his life, liberty, property, and character, that there be an impartial interpretation of the laws, and administration of justice. It is the right of every citizen to be tried by judges as impartial as the lot of humanity will admit. It is therefore not only the best policy, but for the security of the rights of the people, that the judges of the supreme judicial court should hold their offices so long as they behave well; subject, however, to such limitations, on account of age, as may be provided by the constitution of the state; and that they should have honorable salaries, ascertained and established by standing laws.

A BRIEF HISTORY OF NEW HAMPSHIRE

Early historians record that in 1623, under the authority of an English land-grant, Captain John Mason, in conjunction with several others, sent David Thomson, a Scotchman, and Edward and Thomas Hilton, fish-merchants of London, with a number of other people in two divisions to establish a fishing colony in what is now New Hampshire, at the mouth of the Piscataqua River.

One of these divisions, under Thomson, settled near the river's mouth at a place they called Little Harbor or "Pannaway," now the town of Rye, where they erected salt-drying fish racks and a "factory" or stone house. The other division under the Hilton brothers set up their fishing stages on a neck of land eight miles above, which they called Northam, afterwards named Dover.

Nine years before that Captain John Smith of England and later of Virginia, sailing along the New England coast and inspired by the charm of our summer shores and the solitude of our countrysides, wrote back to his countrymen that:

"Here should be no landlords to rack us with high rents, or extorted fines to consume us. Here every man may be a master of his own labor and land in a short time. The sea there is the strangest pond I ever saw. What sport doth yield a more pleasant content and less hurt or charge than angling with a hook, and crossing the sweet air from isle to isle over the silent streams of a calm sea?"

Thus the settlement of New Hampshire did not happen because those who came here were persecuted out of England. The occasion, which is one of the great events in the annals of the English people, was one planned with much care and earnestness by the English crown and the English parliament. Here James the first began a colonization project which not only provided ships and provisions, but free land bestowed with but one important condition, that it remain always subject to English sovereignty.

So it remained until the "War of the Revolution." Smith first named it "North Virginia" but King James later revised this into "New England." To the map was added the name Portsmouth, taken from the English town where Captain John Mason was commander of the fort, and the name New Hampshire is that of his own English county of Hampshire.

Captain Mason died in 1635, just before his proposed trip to the new country which he never saw. He had invested more than twenty-two thousand pounds in clearing the land, building houses, and preparing for its defense, — a considerable fortune for those days. By then Dover and Portsmouth had expanded into Hampton and Exeter, and its income from fishing was increased by that from trade in furs and timber.

Taking the idea from the English government, a community of "towns" was erected, and this became a "royal province" in 1679 with John Cutt as president, with a population intended to be as nearly like England as it could be. The "royal province" continued until 1698 when it came under the jurisdiction of Massachusetts with Joseph Dudley as Governor. Thus it continued until 1741.

During that time England's throne had been ruled by William and Mary, Queen Anne, and George I, and New Hampshire was administered by no less than eight lieutenant governors. There had been much unrest in England and as a result, to New Hampshire's advantage, the Scotch settlers of Londonderry in Ireland had in 1719 sent many of their people here to form a "Scotch" colony in the new place they would call our own Londonderry.

Under King George II New Hampshire returned to its provincial status with a governor of its own, Benning Wentworth, who was its chief magistrate from 1741 to 1766.

During the first two decades of Governor Wentworth's term New Hampshire had been beset with Indian troubles. With little aid from England, then at war with its old-time enemy, France, the colonists undertook the sieges of Louisbourg, and helped to reduce Crown Point, and in the conquest of Canada. By the time of the signing of the Peace of Paris in 1762, and the end of the Indian fighting under the Rogers Rangers, the entire north country of New Hampshire was ready to be explored, surveyed, and populated.

Governor Wentworth who, as if in anticipation of this opportunity, seems to have been well prepared for it, had arranged the purchase for the sum of fifteen hundred pounds of the unauthenticated claims of Robert Mason, heir of Captain John Mason. This was done through a group of twelve influential citizens who called themselves the "Masonian Proprietors." Having done this, the governor kept the land "within the province."

Governor Wentworth, with all or most of the Masonian Proprietors as his councilors, then proceeded to grant towns to prospective settlers as equally as possible. In addition to the thirty-eight towns already granted, more than a hundred others followed after the year 1761. These towns contained lots available to more than thirty thousand families, many from the older towns in southern New Hampshire and Massachusetts, but many from other neighboring states. Some of these towns were located in Vermont, to be released later by a court order, which made the western shore of the Connecticut River the state boundary line.

While the new towns were occasionally given the names of the leading grantees, not a few of them bore the historic names of English royalty, frequently those of friends and relatives of Governor Wentworth and his own royal family, the Rockinghams, in England. Many of the beneficiaries were soldiers who had fought in the Indian wars, while a few were of Dutch origin, such as might settle from New York in New Hampshire.

The terms of the grants were simple. The Proprietors could convey only the soil, while the political rights and powers of government came from the province. Provision was made that no land should be subject to taxation or assessment until improved by those holding the titles. Rights were reserved for land for roads, churches and schools, to be built within a definite period of time, for the use of ministers and in many cases for mill-rights. Fees were nominal, often only a shilling or an ear of corn a year. All tall pines should be saved for the King's navy.

Benning Wentworth died in 1770. He was succeeded by his nephew who later became Sir John Wentworth, the last of the royal governors. He is perhaps best known because of his purchase of a thirty-six mile tract of land on the shore of Lake Winnepesaukee where he established an estate known as Kingswood. It afterward became Wolfeborough.

Governor Sir John Wentworth's beneficial acts to the state included the building of roads, including one from Portsmouth to Kingswood; publishing the first accurate state map; organizing the State militia, a member of which was Major Benjamin Thompson of Concord who afterward became known as Count Rumford; his help in founding Dartmouth College; and the building of Wentworth House, now owned by the State. Loyal to the English crown, he embarked for Nova Scotia at the beginning of the Revolution, there to become its Lieutenant-governor until his death in 1820.

A pre-Revolution event occurring in New Hampshire was the removal in 1774, by a small party of patriots at New Castle, of the powder and guns at Fort William and Mary. Other Revolutionary events included New Hampshire's participation in the Battle of Bunker Hill at which nearly all the troops doing the actual fighting were said to have been from this State; the signing of the Declaration of Independence by New Hampshire's Josiah Bartlett, Matthew Thornton, and William Whipple; General John Stark's victory at the Battle of Bennington; and the success of Captain John Paul Jones at sea.

Just as it was the first to declare its independence and adopt its own constitution, New Hampshire was the ninth and deciding state in accepting the National Constitution as that of a republic, never to be known under any other form of government. New Hampshire's John Langdon was the first acting vice-president of the United States, and was President of the Senate when Washington was elected first president.

Many events have helped to individualize New Hampshire's unique history as the decades have followed each other down to the present time. Both Washington and Lafayette passed within our borders. Meshech Weare was elected the first state "president." Morey's Connecticut River steam-boat preceded Fulton's by seventeen years. An American President, Franklin Pierce, and a Vice-president, Henry Wilson, were elected, both from New Hampshire. Daniel Webster won his famous Dartmouth College case before the Supreme Court. The first American public library was established at Peterborough. The world-recognized "Concord Coach" was made here, as was America's first cog-railroad to Mount Washington dating 1869.

Statesmen, educators, inventors, preachers, scientists, explorers, authors, industrialists, engineers, lawyers, diplomats, are all arrayed in the long line of notables New Hampshire claims as coming from her soil.

GEOGRAPHICAL LOCATION

New Hampshire is situated the most northern of the thirteen original states and lies between latitude 42-40 and 45-18 north and longitude 70-37 and 72-37 west. It is about 180 miles long and 50 miles wide, although the extreme width is 93 miles.

It is bounded on the north by Quebec province in Canada, on the east by Maine and the Atlantic ocean, on the south by Massachusetts, and on the west by Vermont. The Connecticut River is the western boundary.

"MOTHER OF RIVERS"

Geographies sometimes speak of the state as the "Mother of Rivers." Five of the great streams of New England originate in its granite hills. The Connecticut River rises in the northern part, and for nearly one hundred miles of its winding course hems the shores of the state with a "broad seam of silver." The Pemigewasset River starts in the Profile Lake in the Franconia mountains and joins the Winnepesaukee at Franklin to form the Merrimack, which at one time turned more spindles than any other river in the world. The Cocheco and Salmon Falls rivers join at Dover to form the Piscataqua. In addition, two of the principal rivers of Maine, the Androscoggin and the Saco, have their beginnings in northern New Hampshire.

New Hampshire has 1300 lakes or ponds and 40,000 miles of rivers and streams which provide year round fishing and recreation in scenic surroundings, as well as power for the State's many industries.

"THE GRANITE STATE"

New Hampshire is commonly known as the Granite State, and of late years by some writers is called the Queen State — "Queen by right of her natural beauty; queen by her native hardy spirit; queen by her diversified industry; queen by reason of her motherhood of great men. She is enthroned on hills of granite, diademed with sparkling waters and sceptered with industry."

The state entertains annually over a million summer visitors who resort in the mountain, lake and seashore scenery, — in fact it has been estimated that a million automobiles cross our borders annually! The soil is suitable for fruits, flowers and vegetables. The forests of pine, spruce and hard wood add beauty to the landscape and wealth to the land.

The White Mountains are the natural feature which has the widest fame. New Hampshire bodies of water cover one hundred and fifteen thousand acres and vary from small ponds to Lake Winnepesaukee, which is twenty-two miles long and eight miles wide.

New Hampshire's publicly-owned aerial tramway, the first erected to a mountain top in North America, is located in Franconia Notch near The Old Man of the Mountain. Its cars have carried 2,000,000 passengers in their eight-minute ascent of the 2022 feet to the top.

No state grows apples of finer flavor than come from the hillsides of New Hampshire. Horticultural shows have no better exhibits than are presented from towns in the southern part of this state, where the orchards have been sprayed and treated by the latest scientific methods. Strawberries, blueberries, peaches and products of the garden are grown in great quantities and shipped hundreds of miles.

New Hampshire is also famous for her products made from the sap of the maple tree.

Dairying is a large business and in recent years the quality of the herds has increased tenfold. There are 5,779,840 acres of land in the state, 1,960,061 acres being in farm land, with the number of farms estimated at 16,554, according to the 1940 farm census. There were over two and one-half million acres of timber land, which contained over thirty billion feet of merchantable timber, but the disastrous hurricane of 1938 has sadly depleted the standing timber in New Hampshire's granite hills.

It is estimated that every year more than four million dollars is permanently invested in the purchase of land and the construction of buildings in the rural districts. Nearly every town has some summer visitors. Winnepesaukee shores are lined with cottages and hotels; Sunapee has a summer population of over five thousand, who enjoy its beauties.

The state has a seaboard of about eighteen miles. Hampton and Rye beaches have been famous summer resorts since the days Whittier pitched his "tent on the beach." The salt waves of the Atlantic lap the sometimes sandy, sometimes rocky coast into one continuous pleasure ground, where surf bathing and scenic beauty enchant the visitor. In the early fall of 1915 a disastrous fire at Hampton Beach destroyed many of the hotels and places of business there, but the resort has since been rebuilt from the ruins until it is larger and more attractive than ever. The recreational area at Hampton Beach has greatly improved the appearance of that part of the coast. The state maintains a large public bath house and a parking area there. The erection of a sea wall in 1934 not only improved the property along the coast but was a necessary measure against coast erosion.

Among New Hampshire's all-year, all-season recreation attractions, none are more popular than its winter sports. Mount Washington is the highest mountain east of the Rockies and north of the Mason-Dixon Line. Its privately-owned cog railway was the first mountain climbing railway in the world.

New Hampshire has some of the finest ski terrain in the east where the sport may be enjoyed well into July and August. Its many lifts include the widely known Cranmore skimobile, operated all year, and Tuckerman, Cannon, Sunapee and Gilford slopes.

Portsmouth, the only sea city, has an historic past and a prosperous present with its large navy yard. New Castle is a place of romance and aesthetic beauty and adventure. A large part of the Isles of Shoals in Portsmouth harbor belongs to New Hampshire, with their cottages and hotels. Lobster fishermen find the Isles of Shoals and the New Hampshire coast favorable areas for taking this famous sea food. The state highways are as fine as any state can boast of and are kept in excellent driving condition the year round. New Hampshire is open to visitors, from the coast to the mountains, twelve months in the year.

FISH AND GAME

In 1865 New Hampshire joined the vanguard of American science by establishing a fish and game department, the first one of its kind in New England. Since that date, some eighty odd years ago, the efforts of this department have been devoted to the propagation and conservation of fish and game.

In modern times the cultivation of fish and the protection of wild life have demanded the application of scientific methods quite as much as any other element of our life. It is a known fact that while European countries have found vast resources in their shore fisheries, the United States is by no means able to rely on her coast fisheries, and has thus been obliged to develop her inland waters to meet the needs that otherwise could have been met only by importation from other countries. Moreover, while Europe's supply is bound to lessen in time to come, our supply will continue to increase.

Today, New Hampshire's Fish and Game Department employs a balanced team of trained wildlife men, fish culturists, and law enforcement officers to maintain and increase the available supplies of her native species under the pressure of vastly increased demand. To do so means that every one of her waters and every bit of cover must be contributing its full share to the state's crop. Research personnel are constantly exploring new avenues to increase natural productivity, while evaluating the results of current practices.

Since World War II, a program of modernization and expansion of fish rearing facilities has more than doubled the annual output available for stocking. Beautiful new rearing stations which rank with any in the country for modern design and efficient operation have been built at Merrymeeting Lake in New Durham, at Summer Brook in Ossipee, and at Merrinack, between Manchester and Nashua. Five other stations at Colebrook, Twin Mountain, Warren, New Hampton, and Richmond have been completely reconditioned.

Fish and game is now recognized as a major factor in the recreation business which is one of New Hampshire's foremost sources of revenue. We can be justly proud of the effective teamwork between department personnel and the sportsmen of the state who are looking forward with the eye of true conservationists to establishing the fish and wildlife species of our state on a secure footing for future years. Deer, grouse, black bear, snowshoe hares, landlocked salmon, togue, black bass, and several species of brook trout are only a few of the wild residents which are to be found in such plenty as to make sportsmen choose New Hampshire first.

"COME TO NEW HAMPSHIRE"

New Hampshire believes in progress and development in every direction. It is the third most industrialized state in the Union and prizes itself on the quality and diversification of its products. New Hampshire is the home of the famous breed of poultry known as the "New Hampshires." She invites the whole world to visit her mountains, the "playground of America." Those seeking opportunity for profitable farming will do well to write for further information to the Commissioner of Agriculture, Concord, N. H.; sportsmen are invited to send for literature and advice to the Fish and Game Director, Concord, N. H.; those looking for business openings, either in manufacturing enterprises or in the retail field, should correspond with the New Hampshire Dept. of Resources and Economic Development, Concord, N. H.

The Boston & Maine Railroad Publicity Bureau at Boston, Mass., Storrowton Village, Eastern States Exposition Grounds, West Springfield, Mass., the New Hampshire Manufacturers' Association and the New Hampshire Historical Society, Concord, N. H., are other sources from which information not given in this volume may be secured.

THE STATE HOUSE

The first discussions regarding the erection of a suitable state capitol building in New Hampshire took place in the year 1814. It was indeed a memorable year. The War of 1812 had come to a close with the signing of the Treaty of Ghent, although the news had not reached America until after our troops under General Jackson had continued fighting into 1815 and won the famous battle of New Orleans.

Other matters attracted state attention. One was the election of a "Republican" governor, William Plumer, who defeated the "Federalists." Another was the Dartmouth College case in which the Governor favored state domination of the College. The legislature considered the proposed new capitol building, but first had to determine in what locality it would be.

The contest was between Concord, Hopkinton, and Salisbury, the last named town having offered seven thousand dollars for the honor. In the end Concord won, and by 1816 final action had been taken to build there.

Considerable expense was saved the town of Concord by the decision to build the Capitol of granite from what are now the Swenson quarries at the north end of the town, and to have the cutting and shaping and facing of the stones done by the inmates of the prison.

A feature of the new and imposing building thus provided was its huge gold-painted wooden eagle, which was raised to the top of the dome in 1818. Appropriate ceremonies presided over by Governor Plumer were marked by a series of toasts, one of which was, "The American Eagle. May the shadow of his wings protect every acre of our united continent and the lightning of his eye flash terror and defeat through the ranks of our enemies."

The new building's actual cost was only approximately $82,000, but it provided adequate quarters for the legislature and committees, the Governor and Council, the Secretary of State, the Treasurer, and the library. Stuart J. Park, the builder, goes down in history as having done an admirable job, and he has a Concord street to the north of the building, Park Street, named in his honor. The first session of the legislature to be held in the new building was in 1819.

There is no record of discussion of enlargements or expansion of Capitol facilities until 1857. At that time there was pointed out the need for more library space and rooms for new departments. Nothing was done, however, until the problem became acute in one of the Civil War years, 1863, through the offer of the city of Manchester of a sizeable sum to build a new capitol and locate it there. This amount was stated to be no less than half a million dollars.

The legislature having voted to retain the Capitol in Concord, plans were at once made to undertake its enlargement and remodeling. This was begun in 1864 and completed by 1866. The cost was said to have been approximately $200,000.

In 1881, plans having been proposed to gain new space for needs caused by growth in State operations, by the removal of the library to a building of its own, plans for such a building were made. These plans, as ultimately adopted, not only provided for a "State Library," but for the Supreme Court as well, and the building was finally completed in 1895. The Library was later enlarged in 1903.

Not until 1903 was the problem of increasing needs for more space in the conduct of the State's business to come under discussion. In this discussion the point was conclusively made that "the majority of State offices cannot be provided with accommodations and are located in other buildings . . ." and that this was uneconomical and ought to be corrected.

Acting under a resolution which instructed the Governor and Council to remedy this situation, Governor Bachelder employed a firm of Boston architects to prepare a plan for an extensive enlargement of the Capitol.

The arguments included the danger from fire, the inadequacy of the House and Senate to seat the membership, and the lack of meeting rooms for the legislative committees. This called for what amounted to an entirely new state house at an expense of approximately a million dollars, and by 1909 a bill for such an amount was introduced.

Again the city of Manchester entered the scene, offering the million if the state house might be removed and rebuilt there. The legislature voted again to retain the Capitol in Concord, and an act for the issuance of bonds for the construction required was passed.

Governor Quimby and his Council then employed architects under whose plans the entire building was remodeled precisely as it is today, making the entire building fire-proof in all its parts, providing electric elevators, modern lighting, vaults, and an up-to-date heating system. During the years following, the proposal of 1903 regarding the necessity of providing for the various departments under one head was again considered, and plans were drawn in 1937 for the present State House Annex.

The corner-stone for this new undertaking was laid in 1938, and the cost at completion, including a considerable grant from the federal government, amounted to $327,000. Here are housed more than twenty of the State's departments in modern, well-equipped offices. The Annex is connected by an underground passageway with the Capitol itself.

Since the building of the Annex, other improvements have been undertaken to keep the State government in step with modern progress. Recently the entire outer surface of the Capitol Building has been expertly sanded and washed, restoring the granite stones to their original clean, fresh appearance.

Likewise the statues of John Stark, Daniel Webster, President Pierce, John P. Hale, and Commodore Perkins have been properly cleaned and made tarnishproof by a modern professional process. Also the gilded wooden eagle, the Capitol Building's long familiar emblem, having been found to be suffering from the effects of many decades of weathering, has been replaced by an element-proof metal replica which now adorns the dome where its gold will glisten in the sunshine of long years to come. These things are among the accomplishments of the administration of Governor Lane Dwinell.

As parts of Massachusetts Bay Colony (1641-3 to 1679) the towns of Hampton, Exeter, Dover, and Strawberry Bank were comprised within Norfolk county, which was one of the four shires, viz., Essex, Middlesex, Suffolk, and Norfolk, into which the Bay Colony was separated from "3d month, 10th day 1643."

The Province of New Hampshire agitated the subject of county establishment for years previous to decisive action in 1769, one plan, which came to nought in 1755, being to make two counties, Portsmouth and Cumberland, with the Merrimack as the dividing line.

The act which passed April 29, 1769, contained the provision that it should not take effect until "his majesty's royal approbation thereof be known," and the further provision that "said counties of Strafford and Grafton shall be for the present annexed to and deemed and taken as parts and members of the County of Rockingham  until the governor by and with the advice of the council shall declare them respectively sufficient for the exercise of their respective jurisdictions and no longer." Governor John Wentworth, in a message to the house of representatives in March, 1771, said "it gives me great pleasure to inform you that his majesty has been graciously pleased to approve and confirm the act for dividing this Province into counties." The existence of Rockingham, Hillsborough, and Cheshire counties began on March 19, 1771, Strafford and Grafton having received authority to exercise and enjoy county privileges, as set forth in Governor John Wentworth's message to the house on May 28, 1772, their separation from Rockingham became effective on June 5, 1773, by the terms of the act of February 5, 1773, "fixing the times and places for holding courts in  Grafton county," four months being allowed for the building of "prisons, court houses," etc.

THE COUNTIES

When New Hampshire was a part of the colony of Massachusetts Bay, from 1641 to 1679, the principal towns of New Hampshire were part of Norfolk county in Massachusetts. New Hampshire did not divide herself into counties, however, until 1769, six years before the Revolution. In that year the five counties of Rockingham, Strafford, Hillsborough, Cheshire and Grafton were established.

Coos was the sixth county, established in 1803. Merrimack was established in 1823, Sullivan in 1827, and Belknap and Carroll in 1840. Since the original division into counties the legislature on twenty occasions has amended and changed the layout. The following is a list of counties in their customary order, giving the name of each, the date of its establishment and the place of the county seat.

Name	Date	County Seat
Belknap	1840	Laconia
Carroll	1840	Ossipee
Cheshire	1769	Keene
Coos	1803	Lancaster
Grafton	1769	Haverhill
Hillsborough	1769	Nashua
Merrimack	1823	Concord
Rockingham	1769	Exeter
Strafford	1769	Dover
Sullivan	1827	Newport

Belknap county takes in the lake region in the central part of the state. Dr. Jeremy Belknap, minister at Portsmouth was the author of a history of the state of New Hampshire. It includes the city of Laconia and ten towns.

Carroll county is in the east central part of the state and is sparsely settled. Charles Carroll was a signer of the Declaration of Independence and represented Maryland in the first Congress. He died in 1832. It includes eighteen towns.

Cheshire county is in the southwestern corner of the state. Cheshire, England, was the home of Admiral Vernon, who commanded a British fleet and was a relative of the Wentworth governors. It includes the city of Keene and twenty-two towns.

Coos county is in the northern part of the state and is the largest county. It was named after an Indian word meaning "crooked" and was so called on account of the bend in the Connecticut River. It has an area of about a million acres and includes the city of Berlin and twenty-two towns.

Grafton county is in northwestern part of the state and large parts of it are sparsely settled. It was named by Governor John Wentworth for the Duke of Grafton, England's sixth Prime Minister and Secretary of State under Lord Rockingham, and includes thirty-eight towns and one city.

Hillsborough county is in the south central part of the state and is the most thickly populated. Wills Hill, Earl of Hillsborough, was President of the English Board of Trade and Plantations in 1763 and a friend of Governor Benning Wentworth. It includes two cities and twenty-nine towns.

Merrimack county is in the Merrimack River region in the south central part of the state. It was named for the river and includes two cities and twenty-five towns.

Rockingham county is in the southeastern part of the state and was the first part settled. Charles Watson Wentworth, the Marquis of Rockingham, friend of the American Colonies was a relative and close friend of New Hampshire's governor, Sir John Wentworth. It includes the city of Portsmouth and thirty-six towns.

Strafford county is in the eastern part of the state north of Rockingham county. William Wentworth, the Earl of Strafford, was prominent in English political history and a relative of the Wentworth governors. It includes three cities and ten towns.

Sullivan county is in the west central part of the state, and like Cheshire county, was embroiled in early boundary disputes. It was named for John Sullivan, and includes the city of Claremont and fourteen towns.

Sullivan county, second congressional, second councilor and eight senatorial districts.

Revolutionary Councilors, 1776-84

Article 60 of the second part of the constitution provides for an executive council of five men to advise and act with the governor. Before the constitution there was a council both under the temporary constitution of the Revolution and under the provincial government. Since 1913 councilors have been elected by plurality vote to represent population but previously to that they were elected by majority vote to represent property, and in the colonial days they were appointed.

The following is a complete list of all the councilors since the Revolution giving the name and address of each and the year in which he was elected or appointed.

*Died in 1931. Special election January 5, 1932 to fill vacancy.

†In 1937 Arthur B. Jenks took his seat in Congress. Following a contested election Congress seated Alphonse Roy in 1939. Arthur B. Jenks was elected in the 1938 general election.

*Did not accept office; Edward H. Cullen elected Feb. 28, 1967.

THE SENATE

The senate began under the constitution and first met in 1784. There were at first twelve senators who represented the five counties that then existed, five senators from Rockingham county, two from Strafford, two from Hillsborough, two from Cheshire and one from Grafton. In 1793 senatorial districts were created to take the place of county representation and each district elected one senator. The elections during the early years took place in March and the legislature met in June annually.

The senatorial districting of 1793 was changed over in 1803 and several times subsequently. In 1878 the senate was doubled in size. In 1915 the senators were elected by plurality instead of majority vote. The following is a complete list of the senators from the beginning, showing the name and residence of each member of each senate, arranged in the order of districts from 1793, when the districts were created, and previous to that year, in the order of counties.

FEDERAL CENSUS

THE UNITED STATES

The United States is composed of fifty states, one district, one commonwealth, and five major non-contiguous territories and possessions.

The republic originated in the rebellion of the British Colonies of North America, Canada excepted, in 1776, and in the Declaration of Independence, the thirteen colonies in revolt styled themselves "The United States of America."

The Canadian boundary line is 3,900 miles in length, the Mexican boundary line being 1,975 miles in length.

According to the 1940 Federal census, the first basic re-measurement of the land and water area of the continental United States since 1880 showed a total area of 3,022,387 square miles, consisting of 2,977,128 square miles land area, and 45,259 square miles inland water area. The total area of Alaska, according to this census, is 586,400 square miles and the total area of Hawaii is 6,419 square miles.

The Capitol of the United States is at Washington, D. C. The corner stone of the original building was laid on September 18, 1793 by President George Washington. The original building was finally completed in 1827, its cost, including the grading of grounds, alterations and repairs up to that year, having been $2,433,844.13.

FEDERAL CENSUS OF 1970

The State. New Hampshire was one of the Thirteen Original States. Its population on April 1, 1970, according to the Twenty-first Census, was 737,681. The State has a land area of 9,017 square miles. In 1970 there was an average of 81.8 inhabitants per square mile as compared with an average of 67.3 in 1960.

The official population count of the State as of April 1, 1970, was 737,681. This represents an increase of 130,760, or 21.5 percent, from the 606,921 inhabitants of the State in 1960.

This report presents final 1970 census statistics on the number of inhabitants of the State and its counties, classified by urban and rural residence. In addition, figures are shown for each county subdivision, each incorporated place, and each unincorporated place of 1,000 or more.

The figures presented here are being issued in advance of their publication in Final Report Series PC(1)-A. The final report for this state will be issued within the next few months.

An outline of the 1970 census publication program can be obtained free of charge from the Bureau of the Census, Washington, D. C. 20233 or any U. S. Department of Commerce Field Office.

In 1790 New Hampshire had a population of 141,885 (Table 1). In 1970, 180 years later, its population was over five times as large. In the twentieth century, the intercensal rates of growth ranged from a low of 2.9 per cent to a record high of 21.5 per cent. In 1900 the population of the State was 411,588, and in 1960 it was 606,921.

Urban and rural residence. — According to the definition adopted for use in the 1970 census, the urban population comprises all persons living in urbanized areas and in places of 2,500 inhabitants or more outside urbanized areas. More specifically, the urban population consists of all persons living in (a) places of 2,500 inhabitants or more incorporated as cities, villages, boroughs (except in Alaska), and towns (except in the New England States, New York, and Wisconsin), but excluding those persons living in the rural portions of extended cities (see "Urbanized areas," below); (b) unincorporated places of 2,500 inhabitants or more; and (c) other territory, incorporated or unincorporated, included in urbanized areas. The population not classified as urban constitutes the rural population.

Urbanized areas. — An urbanized area generally contains at least one city of 50,000 inhabitants or more and includes that portion of the surrounding territory, whether incorporated or unincorporated, which meets specified criteria relating to population density. There are a few urbanized areas which are based on "twin central cities" that have a combined population of at least 50,000. Some urbanized areas contain one or more incorporated places designated as "extended cities." These places are so designated because they have one or more large portions (normally at the boundary of the city) with relatively low population density. These portions are classified as rural and the residents are not included in the population of the urbanized area.

County subdivisions. — The Census Bureau presents statistics for subdivisions of counties, as follows:

- (a) By minor civil divisions in 28 States — Arkansas, Connecticut, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Vermont, Virginia, West Virginia, and Wisconsin.
- (b) By census county divisions in 21 States — Alabama, Arizona, California, Colorado, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Hawaii, Idaho, Kentucky, Montana, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Washington, and Wyoming.
- (c) In Alaska, by boroughs and reservations for those census divisions (the county equivalent) which are so subdivided.

Minor civil divisions (townships, districts, etc.) are the primary political divisions into which counties are subdivided. In some States, incorporated places are minor civil divisions in their own right. In other States they are subordinate to the minor civil division in which they are located, or the pattern is mixed — some incorporated places are independent minor civil divisions and others are subordinate to the minor civil division.

Census county divisions represent community areas which have been defined in recent decades by the Census Bureau with the cooperation of the Governors and State and local officials. These areas have physical features (roads, streams, etc.) as boundaries or follow the limits of incorporated places. The census county divisions in these States have replaced a variety of minor civil divisions which were unsatisfactory for statistical purposes principally because their boundaries frequently changed, were imaginary lines, or were not well known by many of the inhabitants.

Incorporated places. — Political units recognized as incorporated places in the reports of the census are those which are incorporated as cities, boroughs, towns, and villages, with the following exceptions: (a) boroughs in Alaska, and (b) towns in the New England States, New York, and Wisconsin. For extended cities (see "Urbanized areas" above), the data in table 2 refer to all of the population residing within the corporate limits of the city. For these cities, table 3 shows the urban and rural parts separately; comparable 1960 data are not available because this concept was not used prior to 1970.

Unincorporated places. — As in the 1950 and 1960 censuses, the Bureau has delineated boundaries for closely settled population centers without corporate limits. All such places of 1,000 inhabitants or more are shown in tables 2 and 3, and are identified with the letter "U."

Boundary changes. — The boundaries of some of the areas shown in this report may have changed between 1960 and 1970. The 1960 figures given here have generally not been adjusted for such changes. Specific information on the changes will be presented in the Series PC(1)-A final report for this State.

Percents and symbols. — Percents which round to less than 0.1 are shown as zero. A dash "—" signifies zero. Three dots "..." mean not applicable. Minus sign preceding a figure denotes decrease. The symbol "NA" means not available, and "U" means that the place is unincorporated. In table 3, an asterisk "*" denotes an incorporated place under 2,500 located in an urbanized area.

Under the old definition, incorporated places of 2,500 or more and places urban under special rule are classified as urban places.

¹Includes 4,308 persons in urban territory outside of urban places.

²Includes 2,186 persons in urban territory outside of urban places.

RECOUNTS AFTER THE PRIMARY

After the Primary, thirteen requests for recounts were received. The request for a recount of ballots cast for State Senator, District No. 18, Democratic, was withdrawn.

Twelve recounts of ballots were conducted by the Secretary of State, October 1, 1976; six recounts were Republican contests, and six were Democratic contests.

One of the recounts resulted in a change in Rockingham County District No. 6 for Representative to the General Court — Republican. The recount resulted in a tie vote between D. Ronald Cutliffe and Delight Reese. The tie was broken by drawing lots and D. Ronald Cutliffe won the tie.

The other recounts did not result in a change of nominees.

Following are the tables, with the nominees of the Republican and Democratic parties indicated by an asterisk.

PREAMBLE TO THE 1976 REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION PROGRAM

We, the Republican Party in Convention assembled at Manchester, on Sunday, the 3rd day of October, 1976, and in the Bicentennial year of our nation's birth, do hereby adopt the following statements of principle and beliefs for our Party for the next biennium of the State of New Hampshire.

The Republican Party has traditionally stood for economical government that is responsive to our people, with the full realization that government will always face continuing problems. We reaffirm these Republican principles: that government be of, by and for the people; that the best government is the government closest to the people that provides the least interference with their daily lives and that rejects unnecessary taxes.

We reaffirm our Federal and State constitutional rights, to govern ourselves as a free, sovereign, and independent State, except for those powers expressly delegated to the Federal government — and we urge the Federal government not to exceed these constitutional bounds.

We endorse the Republican Party's National Platform.

We pledge to maintain the basic Republican doctrines of free enterprise and sound fiscal management of public affairs. Within these Republican doctrines, we pledge to accelerate our efforts to provide for the economic well-being of our citizens through the creation of new jobs, the attraction of industry, and maintaining fiscal responsibility and common-sense business management in our government's operations.

We believe we should always be responsive to the needs of our people and that our public officials should be accountable at all times to the taxpayers.

We urge greater participation in government by all the voters.

We urge support of and for all Republican candidates as a means of assuring the continuation of good government in New Hampshire.

HUMAN RESOURCES

Elderly

We will continue to work to exempt our elderly citizens from the payment of the interest and dividend taxes and from rooms and meals tax.

We will introduce a simple identification card system which will verify the status of our senior citizens for participation in services and programs available throughout our state.

We will seek continued expansion of our nutrition services.

We will give priority to greater utilization of available transportation and coordination of transportation programs for our elderly citizens.

We will encourage a true $5000 tax deduction for the needy elderly as the present law intended.

We encourage expansion of programs for elderly housing.

Social Services

We are proud of the gains we have made in the field of social services. We continue to make substantial improvements in our State Hospital and will make the improvement of Laconia School a top priority.

We understand the dire need for welfare benefits for those in honest need. We will continue to fight vigorously against waste and fraud in welfare funds so that these monies may be directed to the truly needy in our state.

Pornography, particularly in the hands of children, will meet with our strong resistance.

Careful regulation of homes for child and day care will be maintained.

We will strive for sanitary, pleasant housing for all of our citizens within reasonable tenant-landlord relations.

We will continue to seek adoption of a uniform code on alcoholism and drug abuse with provisions for medical care and rehabilitative treatment for all persons who are alcohol and drug dependent.

Education

We pledge to encourage public and non-public school systems to re-emphasize the basic skills. Also, we will urge instruction in the lower grades in money management and economics.

We pledge to support the University System within the framework of the ability of the taxpayer to pay and we will continue to give preferential treatment on tuition and acceptance in the University System to New Hampshire residents.

We urge the United States Supreme Court to re-examine the question of voluntary prayer in our schools and therefore recognize that our country's greatness is built upon values which are based upon a belief in God.

We encourage education of the handicapped and those with learning disabilities with the ultimate aim of getting these persons into the mainstream of our society. We urge National and State legislative bodies to give attention to this problem.

We feel local control and parental involvement makes for a stronger, healthier and better managed school system.

We know that non-public schools and colleges are strengthening factors in making a better New Hampshire. We advocate keeping them healthy and productive.

We enthusiastically endorse the vocational education regional programs in the secondary schools and support increased emphasis on the expansion of this program.

Dignity and self respect are most easily achieved when one is working and productive. Therefore, we continue our support for the Vocational Rehabilitation and Manpower Training programs.

NATURAL AND ECONOMIC RESOURCES

Environment

We urge the continuance of the clean-up of our air and waters. We support environmental considerations which are in balance with needed economic programs.

Recreation

We reaffirm our pledge to encourage the expansion and development of recreational areas by the public and private sectors.

Development

We believe land use considerations should be based upon the ability of the land to support a proposed use and that decision to effect this end be made at the local level.

We support the simplification of existing control agencies and oppose any new state control systems.

We strongly support efforts to preserve our forest and agricultural lands recognizing their importance to our economy. We support improved funding to promote our vital agricultural pursuits and industries.

We support the expansion and development of our harbors.

We advocate Federal legislation barring any Coast Guard jurisdiction over New Hampshire's inland lakes and waters.

Labor

We support the legislation passed which guarantees collective bargaining for public employees. We oppose strikes in the public sector.

We pledge our continued efforts to develop an economy that provides good paying jobs in the private sector.

Business and Industry

We endorse orderly expansion of employment opportunities through private enterprise. We urge the Federal government to protect our shoe and other industries from foreign competition.

We urge the Federal government to protect the interests of our fishermen by strictly enforcing the 200 mile limit against competitive foreign encroachment.

Fish and Game

We strongly feel that there should be more emphasis placed on better stocking of waters for our fishermen and more attention to game stocking for our hunters. Further, we urge a shift in emphasis from administrative — technical — research activities to field operations to conserve, replenish and increase available fish and game resources.

We strongly oppose any attempt to transfer fish and game license income to the general fund.

VETERANS

We reaffirm our aims to revive and perpetuate the degree of honor and reward for our veterans today as was theirs when they first came home from military service.

We have reestablished traditional dates for Memorial and Armistice Day. During this Bicentennial era, we urge their early adoption throughout the nation.

We strongly support the National Republican Platform that there shall be no blanket amnesty for those who fled this country in its time of national need or for those who deserted from the Armed Forces of the United States.

In addition to the Vietnam veterans bonus, already enacted, we pledge our continued support for programs promoting the educational and employment opportunities for veterans of all wars.

LAW — ORDER AND JUSTICE

The primary responsibility for raising our children and instilling proper values toward society lies with the family and not the government or its agencies.

Parental Responsibility

We support the concept of parents being held responsible for the acts of their minor children.

Forensic Unit

Republican leadership has provided funds for the establishment of an adequate forensic unit and we urge support for its construction.

Gun Ownership

We will promote legislation which will safeguard and protect the right of every responsible citizen to own, possess and use firearms for safe and lawful purposes. We will strenuously oppose all attempts to deny or diminish this right.

Judiciary

We support the need for periodic review of judicial appointments.

We continue to support mandatory long-term prison sentences without parole for convicted traffickers of hard drugs and other heinous crimes.

We will promote legislation requiring mandatory sentences for those using a deadly weapon in the commission of a felony.

We encourage the consideration of a family court system to provide greater expertise over family matters and to relieve heavy court calendars.

Law Enforcement and Correctional Personnel

Republicans have established and continued to work for adequate training, income, retirement benefits, and equipment to aid law enforcement and correctional institute personnel.

We strongly advocate improved efficiency in the State Prison operation that will ensure the safety of the public and inmates alike.

We will continue to improve rehabilitation programs for correctional institutions. We also recognize the necessity to incarcerate dangerous offenders so that our streets might be safe.

Corrections

We advocate the establishment of a Department of Corrections to consolidate parole, prison, corrections and the Youth Development Center.

We recognize as a priority the providing of adequate facilities for people requiring confinement and correction and the need for adequate separation of pre-trial and sentenced people and to this end recommend the construction of new prison facilities, updating and improving houses of correction and jails and provision for facilities for care of PINS (People in Need of Supervision).

We support a complete review of the parole system and urge consideration of introduction of sentencing without parole.

Highway Safety

We continue our efforts to reduce the carnage on our highways.

Police Academy

We advocate the establishment of a police and fire academy for law enforcement and fire personnel.

GOVERNMENT OPERATIONS

We urge a careful study of the constitutional amendments which will appear on the November ballot and that all voters act on those vital issues.

We will vigorously oppose any attempt to impose either a general sales or a general income tax upon the citizens of our State.

We strongly support reforms in the budgeting and auditing of State expenditures. We specifically endorse the concept of "performance auditing" which measures the cost effectiveness of State programs in delivering services to the citizens they are designed to serve.

We are committed to the concept that low government spending makes for low taxes and a balanced budget.

Relations with the Federal Government

The encroachments of the Federal government upon areas within the competence of State and local government has robbed these units of much of their initiative and capabilities.

We urge the Federal government to reverse those policies that intrude upon the sovereignty of New Hampshire.

We strongly urge the repeal of all Federal laws and regulations that impose unnecessary and wasteful costs on the taxpayers of New Hampshire.

State Government

The preservation of government must always be the first priority of a free people. We proudly proclaim that our citizen legislature is the best arbitrator of the public interest.

We support the concept of legislative oversight which would insure periodic review of administrative rules by the legislature.

We support the concept that Federally funded programs should be accepted by the Legislature or Governor and Council and should be finally reviewed as to their merit and accountability by the Legislature.

We support provisions that will eliminate the one year limitation on public pensions (proposed constitutional amendment no. 1).

We support legislation which insures, through periodic review of the budgets and programs of State agencies that functions which have outlined their usefulness will be discontinued. We further support performance audits to insure that public monies are spent in an effective manner and achieve the best utilization of taxpayers' dollars.

We strongly support a conflict of interest law governing the conduct of public business and we support roles for lobbying disclosure.

We endorse the concept of annual sessions of the Legislature as approved by the recent Constitutional Convention without increasing the total number of legislative days.

State Employees

State employees have received increases in pay and/or fringe benefits in each of the last four years of Republican leadership. They deserve further and substantial pay and benefit improvements.

We support overtime pay at time and a half for all classified State employees.

We support a revision and upgrading of the salary scales for unclassified State employees.

Election Law Reform

The right to vote is essential to the preservation of human liberty. We support efforts to insure that eligibility requirements for voters are minimized while guaranteeing the integrity of the electoral franchise. We pledge to avoid partisan rivalry that could frustrate efforts to revise our State's archaic, inconsistent and confusing election laws.

Transportation

Consideration should be given to the request for repeal of the State's mandatory motorcycle helmet law.

We support consolidation of the State's diverse transportation agencies, improvement of the State's air transport capability, and further development of the State Port Authority.

We pledge to continue the rejuvenation of the State's rail system already initiated under Republican leadership.

ENERGY

We recognize that an energy crisis exists.

The fuel resources we now use are limited. We therefore endorse concentration on goals meeting the increasing short-term needs for energy, developing a long-range program of conserving energy and producing it in alternative forms.

We support the construction of the Seabrook nuclear power plant, subject to existing federal safety and environmental guidelines. We are delighted that it will produce thousands of jobs for our working people and will eventually cut the cost of electricity.

We endorse more research and development in coal, wood, hydro, solar, geothermal, wind and fission sources of energy.

We encourage the re-structuring of the Public Utilities Commission to improve its responsiveness to the needs of the people. We approve of private enterprise taking the initiative, rather than more government agencies, in producing energy in all forms.

DEMOCRATIC ORGANIZATION

ELECTION REVIEW COMMISSION

There should be established a single governmental body, representative of all parties, charged with the responsibility of instructing local election officials in their duties, providing candidates and the general public with authoritative interpretations of the campaign and election laws, and providing an easily accessible, swift, and inexpensive forum for the disposition of disputes relating to campaign and election laws.

FREE ACCESS TO VOTER INFORMATION

There should be made available to candidates and officers of the political parties from the Office of the Secretary of State, without cost, accurate and complete information containing the names, addresses, and political party affiliation of all registered voters.

ELECTION BALLOTS

The election ballots should be printed in such manner as to reduce confusion with respect to the selection of candidates and to eliminate voting by the straight party circle at the top of the ballot.

HUMAN NEEDS AND SERVICES

HEALTH

Effective health care should be available within reasonable distance and time to all New Hampshire citizens without regard to personal financial circumstances. It should include education, prevention, treatment, rehabilitation, and maintenance to allow all individuals their full potential of physical and mental well-being. Attention should be directed to care in all health fields, with emphasis on the needs of the elderly and the disadvantaged.

WELFARE

The dignity of individuals, the protection of their human rights, and the provision for their basic needs should be assured for all who are unable to be self-sufficient. Self-sufficiency, to the highest degree possible, should be the goal of all New Hampshire citizens.

HOUSING

Every citizen of New Hampshire should be assured decent and safe housing at a reasonable cost. The rights of homesteaders, tenants, landlords, and developers should be protected fairly, and responsibilities shared mutually and equitably.

EDUCATION

All educational opportunities should be equally available so that all citizens can reach their highest potential. Higher education or vocational training or retraining should be available to all at a cost reasonably reflecting their financial resources. Emphasis should be placed on the needs of exceptional individuals whether gifted or handicapped, and on their right to a full share of all educational resources.

SOCIAL SERVICES

The need for social service programs to help people cope with the problems of everyday living and to deal with exceptional circumstances, should be recognized. These programs should be adequately funded. All social service agencies, whether public or private, should be encouraged in acquiring all possible support, especially New Hampshire's full share of all available federal funds. Control, planning, and implementation of social service programs should be administered so as to be both available and accountable to the people. The highest possible percentage of available money should be spent on the actual service.

THE ARTS

Given the beauty of our state and the potential creativity of its people, all efforts should be made to encourage artistic expression and to make the Arts available to all people.

CULTURAL AND ENVIRONMENTAL HERITAGE

The Democratic Party pledges to preserve the cultural and environmental heritage of New Hampshire.

LAND USE

Because land is our basic natural resource and in absolutely limited supply, its use must be carefully planned and regulated. Therefore, a state-wide land use plan must be created and enforced.

ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION

The Democratic Party pledges full support of existing environmental protection statutes and encourages Democratic leadership in the establishment of new environmental protection policies.

REGIONALIZATION

Because no local area can exist in today's world without meaningful relationships with its neighbors on the local, county, state, or interstate levels, it is essential to have mechanisms which encourage cooperation in planning on issues which confront the region as a whole while maintaining at least federal minimum standards.

CULTURAL AND ETHNIC HERITAGE

Recognizing the distinctive contributions that have been made to the growth and development of this state by culturally diverse, ethnically different, and denominationally distinct but genuinely devoted American citizens, both men and women, the Democratic Party calls for the preservation of this enriching pluralism.

Recognizing that any policy will succeed only to the extent individual citizens respect it and are involved, the Democratic Party endorses maximum participation by all.

HUMAN DIGNITY

We believe that justice, dignity, opportunity, and respect are inherent rights of all people. Age, sex, status, race, creed, national origin, or income must not be a barrier to the full rights and privileges granted to all persons under our Constitution.

We need to focus special attention on some groups within our society whose rights and privileges remain unfulfilled.

THE ELDERLY

The older citizens of our state, whose labor and efforts have continued the long process of providing the opportunity of a full life for all of us, are being neglected. The senior members of our society must be assured dignity and security.

CHILDREN

The nurture and care of all children will be one of our major concerns. The abuse and neglect of children must be the concern of all society and demand the involvement, understanding, and cooperative efforts of all citizens. We believe that all children have an absolute right to counsel in all civil or juvenile proceedings.

WOMEN

Although improvements have been made in the opportunities available to women, we must always be aware of areas where discrimination because of sex still exists. All institutions, governmental or private, must treat women equally. We, the Democratic Party, will encourage and provide an opportunity for women to assume leadership roles within the party. We will encourage women to seek public office. We, as a party, will actively pursue legislative goals which will provide equal opportunities for women in all areas of our society.

PRISONERS

We reaffirm our belief that justice and dignity must be a standard for all people. We must recognize that those who break the law and must live for a time away from society should be treated in a manner that will allow them to return to society as productive and dignified citizens.

FREEDOM OF EXPRESSION

People must have the right to express themselves free from governmental interference or censorship. This freedom should be limited only when it would infringe upon the rights of others.

PRIVACY

We believe all people have an inherent right to privacy which must be respected by all governmental agencies and private institutions.

PUBLIC ADVOCATES

The needs of citizens for fair redress of grievances against both governmental and private institutions requires the establishment of a public advocate. The office of the advocate must be unfettered by economic, political, or ideological constraints.

We must review and re-evaluate our laws and institutions to bring a standard of quality and dignity to all. When seeking solutions to our problems, we must not be bound by our present way of thinking, but must explore and be receptive to new ideas.

LABOR AND ECONOMIC PROGRESS

The Democratic Party will continue to promote administrative policy and seek legislative action that will provide a better standard of living for a larger number of New Hampshire citizens.

THE WORKING PERSON

We support workers' rights to bargain collectively and to work under good conditions at fair wages. We support: effective minimum wage legislation that covers all workers and that has the federal standard as its floor; the right to organize and bargain collectively for all workers including public employees, and teachers and staffs of educational institutions; conditions of public employment that provide a standard for private employers and that include cost-of-living adjustments and extra pay for overtime; opposition to any laws, including so-called right-to-work laws that undermine labor unions.

EQUAL ECONOMIC OPPORTUNITY

Equal opportunity and pay for women and older citizens must be realized. We support: pointed demonstration of equality in all public employment and government service; representation of women, older citizens, organized labor, and other frequently excluded groups on the public and private councils that make policy in the state.

FINANCES

Our objective is to avoid unnecessary changes in the tax/revenue system, and to administer existing taxes fairly and efficiently, to distribute revenues so they go to areas and activities that need them. We support: the reform of our systems of taxation so that wealthier citizens with unusual opportunities to shelter income do not avoid paying their fair share of the public burden; the reform of our system of property taxation so that every citizen is treated fairly in terms of ability to pay; a change in social security and other payroll taxes so that they no longer take a larger share of a low income than of a high income.

GOVERNMENTAL RESPONSIVENESS

Departments of the State Government must be responsive agencies that recognize the rights of their clients. We support: the elimination of lifetime appointments that lead to negative, irresponsible administration; positive operation that helps the unemployed or other constituents to find new jobs or build new careers and that encourages those who need them most to take advantage of their rights to guidance and benefits; unemployment benefits and workmen's compensation that keep pace with inflation and offer extended coverage to those that face long-term problems; denial of benefits only when the agency has presented appropriate job opportunities to the worker.

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

We encourage economic development in areas that need it most in forms that do not destroy our environment or our way of life and in ways in which the cost does not exceed the benefit. We support: the focus of development effort on areas of highest unemployment; local review of all plans for siting plants and the roads and other facilities required to support them; the thesis that agricultural use of land should not be penalized; the maintenance of a viable transportation system.
